Foreword

Take a look at that unpredictable fun-loving and sometimes controversial student at Smithfield High . . . Inquisitive and alert, cynical and sentimental, practical and idealistic. One day we are soaring cloud high and the next we plunge to the depths of despair. Fundamentally teenagers in every era are the same; only customs change and shift. Slang of the day becomes outmoded, dances change names, food fads differ, styles follow a fashion cycle, but students are still shy, dreamy, boisterous and energetic bundles of storm and stress and conflicting loyalties searching for security, recognition, and independence.

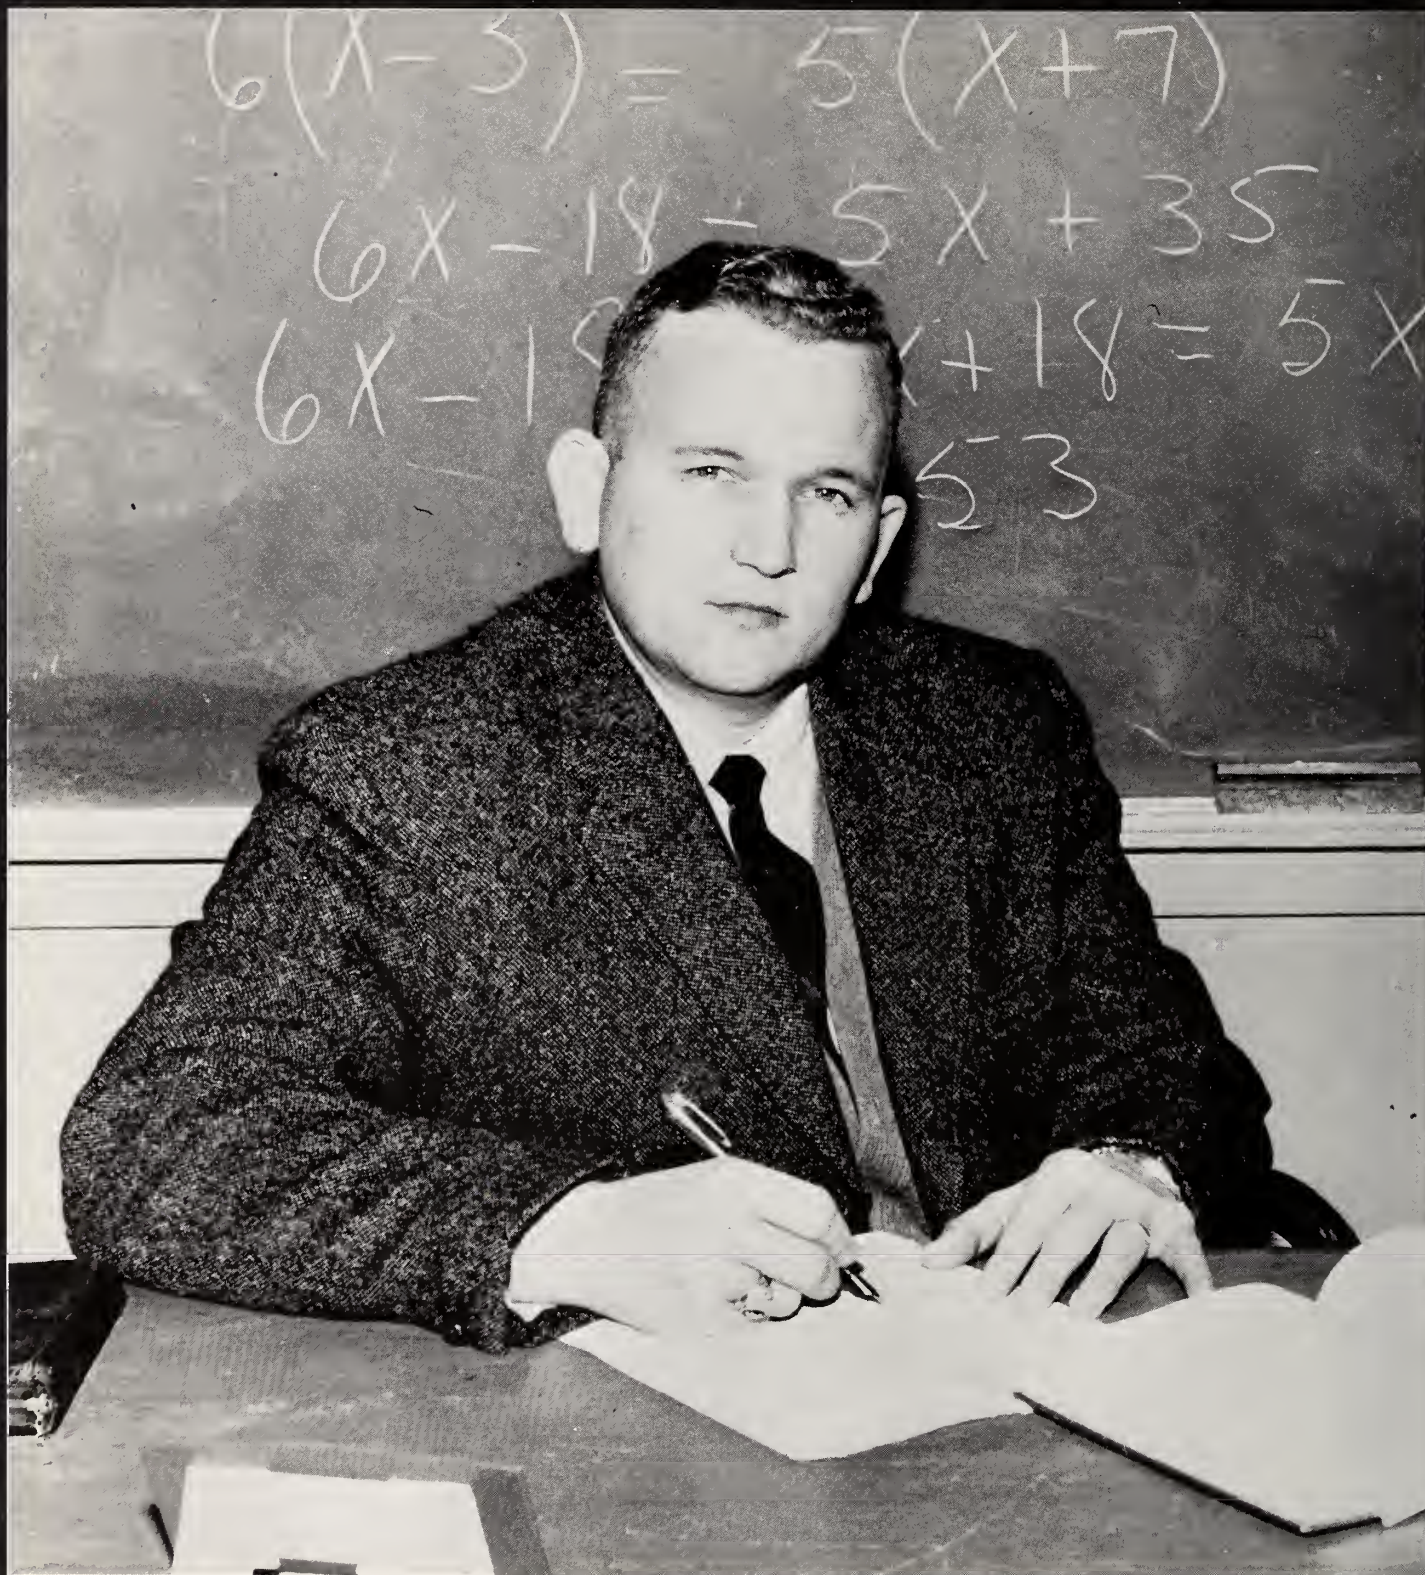

Yes, we are all here—all the desires, dreams, and aspirations of human life.

Visit us in our panoramic world of classes and clubs, crowded halls and chapel period. Join us in cheering our Red Devils on to victory, in struggling to meet the "Shield" deadline, planning the Twerp dance, making a date to go to Gino's for dinner, or to meet at the Parish House after a Friday night ball game.

. . . Forever searching and striving, we are "those crazy mixed up kids" who go steady and own too many convertibles. We are those often referred to as being undisciplined and having too much freedom.

. . . We ask your patience and encouragement as we seek a set of values that will meet the test of tomorrow.

MR. J. L. CREECH, JR.

Dedication

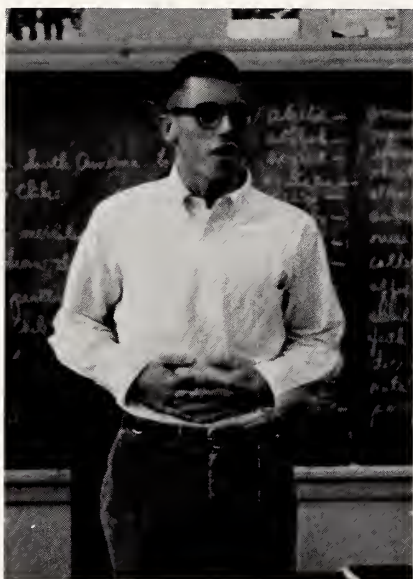

Freshman Math is his field and fortunate are those of us who sat at his feet . . . a respected teacher . . . a good friend.

Departments

English

WE COMMUNICATE THROUGH ENGLISH. Our English Department strives to create a better understanding of our English language by teaching the students basic grammar, stressing vocabulary enrichment, and striving for skill in writing and speaking. To teach appreciation of our heritage through literature is by no means a minor objective. How often a student understands and gains the full flavor of a literary selection under the guidance of a trained teacher! Our English Department is indeed strong and one that our students speak of with pride.

Bill Harris gives an impromptu speech on all of his aches and pains. The subject of a speech of this type is unimportant for it is an exercise meant to help students think quickly on their feet.

Math

MATH TEACHES US TO REASON.

Seeking to explain the magic of numbers, the Mathematics Department offers General Math, Algebra I and II, Plane and Solid Geometry. With the aid of three full-time teachers, and often practice teachers from State College, the Department endeavors to stimulate interest in and appreciation for mathematics as a basic tool in everyday living and to stimulate a reasoning attitude which will be of benefit to students in everyday life.

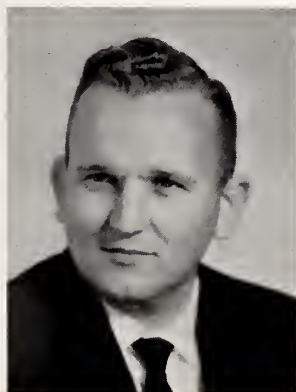

Mr. Creech takes on another class of freshmen. His victory comes when these young minds have acquired a knowledge of the basic fundamentals of algebra.

Patience, understanding, and a great knowledge of geometry make up the qualities so admired in Mrs. Andrea Boyette.

Science

SCIENCE HELPS US TO UNDERSTAND THE WORLD AROUND US. Our Science Department endeavors to help its students find their places in the living, growing, and changing world; to understand and appreciate the interdependence of plant and animal life; to understand and appreciate a man's total dependence on Mother Nature; and to help the students find their relationship to the Creator of the World. In so doing, it is hoped that each student will find his proper place in life. Physics, Chemistry, Biology, and General Science make up our Science Program.

Chemistry to most people means the performing of such dazzling experiments as the burning of magnesium, although it is actually a study of the properties and activities of the many substances around us.

Foreign Languages

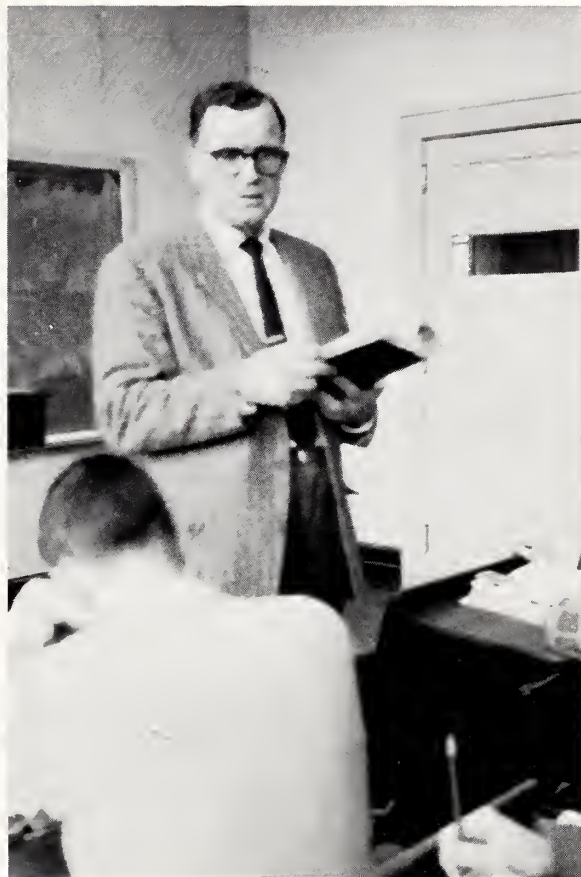

THE STUDY OF FOREIGN LANGUAGES DEVELOP CULTURE

Freshmen and sophomores burn the midnight oil in preparing Mr. Woodard's Latin assignments. Both of these courses, Latin I and II, not only give background in Roman culture, but students also learn to apply their Latin grammar in English and other language courses.

Mrs. Peele's French classes take imaginary trips to France via books, maps, guides, and library materials. Various French records aid these classes in their pronunciation. Then there is that everyday drill on the all important verb and vocabulary study as well as the translation of French stories.

Social Studies

RECORD OF CIVILIZATION

Our Social Studies department functions with the ultimate purpose of teaching its students to understand the problems of the past in order to prepare them to live in their present environment. A famous philosopher once said, "To know nothing of the past is to understand little of the present and to have no conception of the future."

Miss Wood, the newest addition to our Social Studies Department, uses the map frequently as an aid to teaching.

TRAINS THE HOUSEWIVES OF TOMORROW

Mrs. Cash goes into action when she discusses "Housing" with Susie Johnson.

Members of the Home Ec. classes can give hints on the latest fashions, what electric appliance to buy, how to live on a limited budget, and what is proper to wear on all occasions. Then there is just plain everyday cooking and sewing in which they excel. All this training leads to efficiency in tomorrow's role as homemaker.

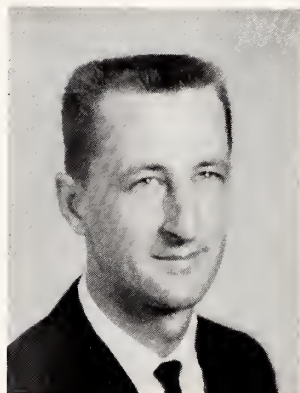

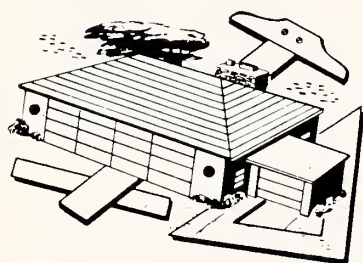

Mechanical Drawing and Industrial Arts

LEARNING BY DOING

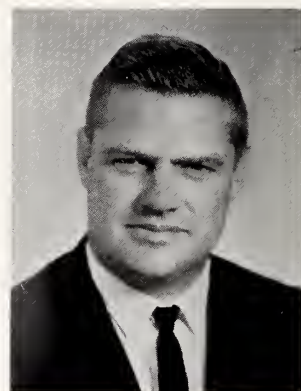

Drafting and architecture make up a great part of the Mechanical Arts course. To the Industrial Arts Department have been added metal working and welding. Students in this course get varied experiences in consumer buying, industrial processes, tool and machinery operations. The shop is run on the factory system dividing the shop into two groups, labor and management. A superintendent and foreman make up the management while the rest of the class are the laborers.

Health and Physical Education

LEAD TO PHYSICAL FITNESS

Organized games and recreation keep Jack from being a dull boy. Through our health and physical education program, we develop good sportsmanship, release and channel pent up energy and provide recreational interests that carry over into adult hobbies for leisure hours.

We have positive proof that this game is not "fixed."

Art

WE EXPRESS OUR EMOTIONS THROUGH ART

In our art course students, under the direction of Mrs. Edna Earle Adams, become familiar with the works of Titian, Leonardo De Vinci, Raphael, Picasso, and many others. Most enjoyable of all is their expressions of creativeness found in bulletin boards, posters, puppets, copies of the old masters and originals.

Library

OUR LIBRARY—THE NUCLEUS OF LEARNING

Essential to the entire student body is the library. Each year our library strives to render more efficient service through the improvement of research facilities. Mrs. Vinson has a trained corps of workers that handle chores and assist students in the many calls that come to the library daily.

Junior-Senior Play "Inherit the Wind"

Of great merit which made the audience think even as it amused was the play, "Inherit the Wind." Fifty-seven juniors and seniors, under the direction of Mrs. Kay Wilkins, gave an excellent performance of this Broadway drama, which is based upon the Scopes "monkey trial" in Dayton, Tennessee, in the summer of 1925. The old issue of whether there is room in our world for both science and the Bible came to life again as Walker Wells and Bubba Creech gave their moving portrayals of Matthew Harrison Brady (Bryan) and Henry Drummond (Darrow). To quote from the comments by the editor of The Smithfield Herald: "Smithfield High School is to be congratulated for exposing students and the whole community to intellectual adventure."

"From the hallowed hills of sacred Sinai . . ." (Walker Wells as M. H. Brady)

"Bert didn't say that. He only meant that . . . that . . ." (Carolyn Lewis as Rachel Brown)

"Do we curse this sinner in our midst!" (Jimmy Ferrell as Reverend J. Brown)

"Shield your eyes, monk. You're about to meet the mightiest of your descendants." (Sandy Massey as E. K. Hornbeck)

Freshman Dance

Every year in SHS there comes that certain Saturday morning when the seniors somehow manage to drag out of bed by 9:00 and tramp down to the Legion Hut to decorate for the Freshman Dance. After a morning of "work," the hut stands in readiness for the holocaust which is to follow that night. All of Smithfield is aware of the coming event, for every beauty parlor, barber shop, ladies' and men's store is invaded by freshmen. Girls run all over town in curlers and mud packs; older people just stay home on this particular Saturday, and avoid the confusion. The precedent was surely not broken this year, but probably strengthened. If you have any question as to whether or not this really goes on every year, just remember to look for it when it comes time for the Freshman dance once again.

Freshmen are indeed "green," to use the classical term. Nevertheless, they have a world all their own. The seniors that come to the Freshman Dance are different, for everyone realizes that they are seniors and therefore they must act like it—to some extent anyway. But the freshmen are freshmen and everyone also realizes this fact, thus putting them in an entirely different situation. They can be their own inquisitive, naive, carefree selves. And so for this reason, if for no other, the upperclassmen must envy the Freshmen of SHS.

Junior-Senior is that magical term that meant weeks of hard work for the juniors, and weeks of wondering, snooping, and prying for the seniors. It also means that brief, four-hour period in "The Old South" that will never leave the memory of all who were present. The old Southern plantation, the Swanee River, willow trees, Spanish moss, flowers, Dixie, and all the other ingredients that made up our "Old South" are branded in the memories of each of us.

The mood of "The Old South" permeated the program too as we saw the Virginia Reel, the scalawags, a Dixieland quartet, dancing, songs, and many others. Many of us hardly recognized each other in formal attire, and to quote Mrs. Adams, Joe and Louise "looked like a million dollars!"

By the end of the after-party at the Armory, most of us were completely exhausted. With the rising of the sun the next morning, the Junior-Senior came to a close.

As the wind whispers in the willow trees, the Kay Hill, our favorite Southern belle, welcomes the guests to the Old South.

Patsy Edwards, Homecoming Queen, escorted by Franklin Grimes, is crowned by Coach Roy Brown.

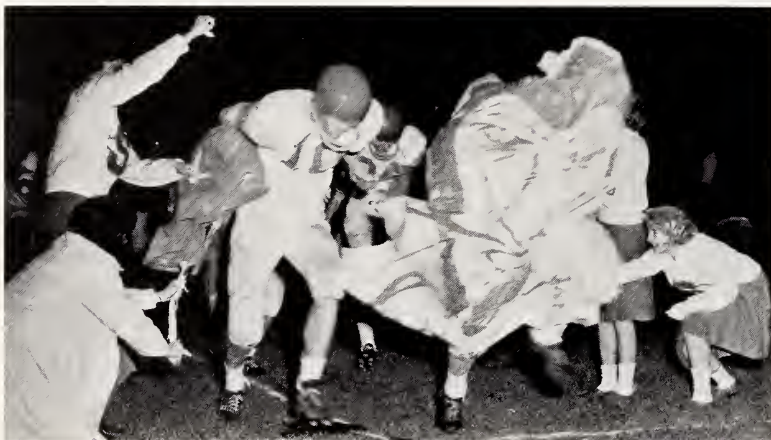

Homecoming

The Homecoming festivities for 1963 began with chapel where the speech class gave skits appropriately titled and carried out. One remembered particularly was "Homecoming Thirty Years from Now." The cheerleaders appeared on the program leading the student body in spirited yells. At the close the Senior girls who were to appear in the Homecoming Court were presented to the group.

And then the game—Ugh! It rained—and rained. The Homecoming Court took on the appearance of a funeral procession as they marched under those black umbrellas to the center of the rain drenched field where Coach Brown crowned Patsy Edwards, 1963 Homecoming Queen. Although only a few loyal fans withstood the weather, the Devils won a memorable victory over Benson, 26-0.

The Homecoming Dance at the Armory on Saturday night made up for all that was lost socially on Friday night. The program in the early part of the evening consisted of a group of very fitting popular songs dedicated to special people. The skits ranged from the purely original to those not so original. Climaxing the program was the entrance of the Queen and her escort and the members of the Court. After they formed their figure Patsy Edwards and Franklin Grimes led the first dance with the Senior boys and girls joining in.

The team runs through a Red Devil held by the cheerleaders.

Shield Staff '63

We have tried to publish this book with one primary purpose in mind—what you students would like. The section of "Student Life" was added in an attempt to have more of the type pictures that you enjoy as well as to portray the intangible element in every school—its spirit. This book is the product of much effort. It is yours. We feel that its success or failure will be determined by how you like it. Indeed we hope you do.

The SHIELD Staff: Kay Jones and Joyce Harris, assistant editors; Spike Yarborough and Bubba Creech, co-editors.

Tyler Edmonson, sports editor, checks over a page while Barbara Grantham, business manager, and Marilyn Day, advertising manager, plan their campaign.

Our advertising staff: Linda Lewis, Sallie Padgett, Patsy Edwards, Peggy Barbour, Kay Willett, Jennie Norton, Jane Boyette, Claire Young, Sandy Carroll, Frances Roberts, Sarah Nell Hill, Kay Hill, and Sallie Honeycutt.

The SHIELD'S faculty advisor, Mrs. A.G. Glenn.

High Times Staff

To please the student body has been the major concern of the staff this year. Many hours of extra work has gone into each publication. Collecting news, arranging special art work, and seeing that each article was in place kept the entire staff busy until the day the paper was presented to the students. Without the co-operation of each person in high school the "High Times" would have been a worthless cause. The success of the paper is attributed to the wonderful help of those who have been called on for work on special assignments and articles. But without the patience and understanding of Mrs. Burnette, the faculty advisor, the publication would have been a poor product.

Bonnie Coats, Editor, plans the next issue with Mrs. Burnette, Faculty Advisor.

Barbara Grantham, News Editor; Bill Harris, Sports Editor; Bonnie Coats, Editor; and Kay Jones, Art Editor, go through last minute preparations.

Wednesday Chapel

Our Chapel programs have been varied this year with the Speech Class in charge of several. Our ministers have visited us and given excellent messages. Among them have been Rev. John Ryberg, Charles Mercer, Joe Lanning, and Starke Dillard. There have also been band concerts, group singing, and other special features.

Santa Claus (Andy Holland) is mobbed by SHS "kiddies" eager to tell what they want for Christmas.

Frances Roberts delights the audience with her pantomime of a child in her mother's make-up.

We all got in the Christmas spirit in the Sing Along With Santa show.

Beatnik poetry, read by Barbara Grantham, prepared us all for a "cool yule."

Majorettes

SALLIE HONEYCUTT, Chief

Attractive summer uniforms are worn by our majorettes when weather permits.

Kay Willett, Peggy Barbour, Sallie Honeycutt, and Frances Roberts are to be commended for the fine work that they have done as our majorettes.

Band

MR. LEE ROGERS, Director

On several occasions it was necessary for the band to travel by bus. The trips were always great fun and were enjoyed by everyone.

1963

Good bands have become a tradition at Smithfield High School, and this year was no exception. Many students who have graduated with the musical background provided by our band training program have gone on to take positions in other fine musical organizations.

The band participates in many activities. Football games, parades, concerts, and contests are the major projects of the band as a whole, although individuals often achieve honors such as the All-State Band.

Certainly much credit goes to Mr. Lee Rogers who has directed our band since 1951, and who has built it into the strong activity that it is today.

THE BAND OFFICERS: Barbara Grantham, Secretary-Treasurer; Bubba Creech, President; Jimmy Ogburn, Publicity Manager; Carolyn Lewis and Linda Allen, Librarians.

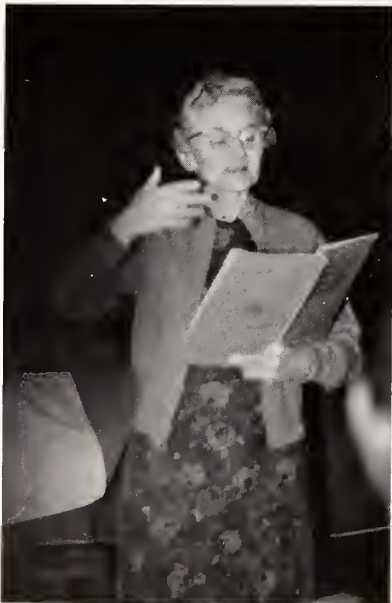

Few people realize how much work goes into the preparation of a half-time show.

Our Dance Band is made up of band members who play for pleasure. It rehearses on Monday nights and is led by Mr. Lee Rogers. This year's band has been quite successful and has proved a great enjoyment for all who participated.

Science Club

In an age of increasing emphasis on science, students and teachers are doing a wonderful job of keeping pace with the world. The Science Club furnishes additional science discussions and projects.

Future Homemakers

The F.H.A. is one of the most active clubs in Smithfield High School. Its purpose is to help girls become better homemakers. A Christmas tea for parents and friends was an outstanding event this year. The girls made the refreshments, arranged the receiving line, and explained to the guests the purposes and aims of the organization. The members look forward to the statewide conventions, rallies, and summer camps.

The programs of the Science Club are on widely varied areas in Science such as the anatomy of the body.

The many projects and its fine services makes the F.H.A. one of our best clubs.

Fine Arts Club

The Fine Arts Club strives to bring about a better appreciation of the arts. Discussions on many types of music from Bach to Brubeck have made up several of our programs. Modern Art and Modern Poetry have been enjoyable studies. Mary Mercer and Bobby Hooks gave an especially good program on Carl Sandburg and Robert Frost. The twenty-five members range from freshmen to seniors. The officers are Jimmy Ferrell, President; Bobby Hooks, Vice-President; Buddy Hooks, Secretary; Mary Mercer and Tony Stanley, Program Committee.

Monogram Club

The Monogram Club of forty-three members is an organization made up of all those students who have won a letter in some extracurricular sport. The club sponsors Athletic Awards Day, a banquet initiating new members, and the annual Twerp Week ending in a dance at the Legion Hut on February 23.

This Fine Arts program was on—Ray Charles?? Sandy Massey and Buddy Hooks made the preparations.

Future Teachers of America

The Future Teachers Club of Smithfield High School is a club which hopes to create an interest among youth for the teaching field. The members range from the 10th through the 12th grades. Discussions and programs dealing with the many facets of teaching make up the programs of study. Mrs. Andrea Boyette is faculty advisor.

Journalism Club

Bonnie Coates, President; Jane Boyette, Secretary; Andrea Lee, Vice-President; Mrs. Burnette, faculty advisor make up the leaders in the Journalism Club. Writing for the school paper, studying phases of Journalism as careers, sponsoring bulletin boards in the entrance hall, and inviting in various newspaper men to speak have been some of the club's main projects.

Future Teachers of America keep up with educational news the world over.

Learning to take notes from a speaker is part of the training provided by our Journalism Club.

Athletics

Cheerleaders

The selection of new cheerleaders every year is always an exciting event. Girls who are trying out for this honor can always be recognized by their bruised knees and unsteady movements. This rigid training usually produces competent cheerleaders that are certainly an asset to our school. This year's squad has indeed fulfilled their duties well, for we shall long remember the original cheers and contagious school spirit.

HEADS: Jennie Norton and Claire Young

The cheerleaders always help the team celebrate a victory.

Jenny Wilson, Emma Alice Avera, Marilyn Day, Claire Young, Jennie Norton, Sara Nell Hill, Gayle Johnston, Pam Jordan, are to be commended for their fine work as our cheerleaders.

Football 1963

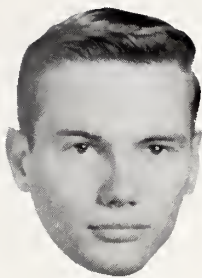

This year's football team although winning only four games was one of S.H.S.'s more promising squads. Seven sophomores were on the starting line up replacing some of the fifteen Seniors who graduated. Rain and mud plagued many of the games. The most memorable contest was with Fuquay when Mike Warren intercepted a pass and raced for a winning touchdown in the last ten seconds. The season climaxed with two straight wins and Co-Captains Andy Holland and Howard Whitley making All-Conference selection.

Basketball

Boys' Basketball

The Red Devil boys' team surprised everyone by winning nine straight games after dropping the season opener to Benson. Handicapped somewhat by lack of experience, the Devils came through with impressive wins showing great determination and hustle. After losing a close one to Cary in a real thrilling battle, the Devils had trouble getting back on the winning trail. All in all the team has shown to be very strong and will be a serious threat in the approaching tournament at Cary. The seniors on the squad are Andy Holland, Durwood Stephenson (Co-captains), and Franklin Grimes.

Girls' Basketball

Our girls' basketball team began this year with a determination to win. This desire placed them second in the conference. Teamwork has proved to be the outstanding factor. The victory over undefeated Selma has been the highlight of the season. In this game, the defense showed remarkable ability to hold back Selma's aggressive forwards. Another exciting game was with Fuquay when the game ended in a double overtime leaving Smithfield in tears at the first loss of the season. The lower classmen have gained valuable experience which should prove effective in the future. There are only three seniors on the squad: Jenette Byrd, Patsy Edwards, and Linda Byrd. The Red Devil damsels will give a good account of themselves at the District Tournament in Cary at the close of the season.

Casey at the bat! Durwood Stephenson connects for a double.

Last year's baseball season proved to be quite successful for Coach Jack Temple and his squad. Under the leadership of David Putnam and Harry Edwards, the co-captains, Smithfield won five games and lost only three. To add to this fine record, Smithfield defeated Benson for the Southern Division Title, enabling them to go to the play-offs with Millbrook. Although our team lost to Millbrook, we are proud of the 1962 record.

Bill Sutton

Joey Overby rounds the corner

Track is a fairly new sport in Smithfield High School, but our team improves each year. In track, each man is a team, working by himself, and improving by himself. Then the success of a track team depends on the individual.

Last year the members of our team, under the supervision of Coach Roy Brown, exhibited their competence in regular conference play by scoring a total of 253 points. This record shows the tremendous work exerted by last year's squad in improving Smithfield's young team.

"There I was, surrounded . . ."

#@%#

"WOW! Get a load of her."

"Or hear old Triton blow his wreathed horn."

Food for thought

"Forget the Freshman dance."

"Hey, Babe, did I ever tell you about the time . . ."

". . . and you should see the driver!"

Oom-Pah-Pah

Santa's eight little reindeer

The girls really helped decorate for homecoming.

"The Thinker"

Custodians

Through rain, sleet, or snow our custodians can be depended upon. Their tireless efforts to keep our school neat and attractive too often go unnoticed, but are sincerely appreciated by the students and teachers.

Shown here are Joe Lassiter, Louise Lassiter, Lillie Mae Griffin and James Terrell as they pause for a pose.

Mrs. Sarah Massey, cafeteria cashier and secretary, takes care of the finances while Mrs. Nolia Ward, cafeteria manager, smiles at the hungry students.

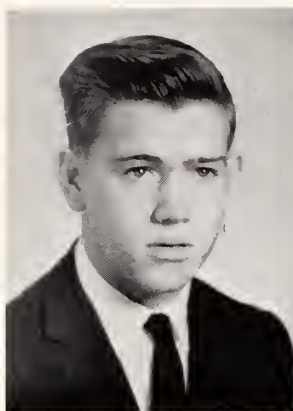

Lunch Room

As cafeteria manager, Mrs. Ward has the job of planning the meals and supervising the lunchroom help. 800-900 students eat lunch daily in the cafeteria. Feeding this many children is no easy task. Her work is tremendous and she does it well.

Guidance

The guidance program in Smithfield High School began four years ago. Many accomplishments have been made in this short time. 200 vocational books have been added to the library shelves. 325 vocational files filled with pamphlets, brochures, and various other related materials serve the many needs of the students. The guidance counselor, Mrs. Alice Avery, confers with students regularly concerning choice of careers, college information, and personal problems. A fine testing program has also been set up in the Guidance Department.

Seniors often find the guidance materials provided by our guidance department very helpful in making important decisions which have so much bearing on their futures.

Jenny Hill, Don Flowers, Linda Allen, and Durwood Hamilton deserve the admiration of all of us for their service to their school.

Bus Drivers

Proof of the capabilities of the courteous and careful senior school bus drivers can be seen in their flawless record of safety. So responsible are they that no parent feels anxious when children are entrusted in their care.

We Proudly Present

Senior Glee Club accompanists: Sara Nell Hill, Eleanor Ruth Woodall, and Jane Boyette.

Sandy Carroll, winner of the Betty Crocker Home-maker Award in S.H.S.

Jimmy Crayton has been honored by being selected for top percussion positions in the North Carolina All-State Band for two consecutive years.

Although only a sophomore, Jenny Talton has been elected State F.H.A. Historian. She is a member of the national "Teen Times" and was a delegate last summer to the national F.H.A. Convention in Salt Lake City, Utah.

Smithfield teens say that the best way to get away from it all is to relax while enjoying a fine movie at
